Description

A refined set of three Edwardian pendant lights, each exquisitely crafted with gilt brass fittings and deeply cut glass shades. The acorn-shaped glass bodies are elegantly formed with spiral diamond-cut panels, creating a dazzling interplay of light and texture.

Each pendant is suspended from a decorative twisted cord and embellished with pierced gilt brass galleries and open-work spheres, intricately detailed with floral and foliate designs. The gilt mounts add warmth and richness, beautifully complementing the sparkling clarity of the glass.

Perfectly balanced between opulence and restraint, these pendants would illuminate a hallway, dining space, or conservatory with a soft, elegant glow, an embodiment of Edwardian sophistication and artistry.
